

How do I translate the EDEKA
next in Firefox ?

With the help of this instruction, you can ...

- activate the translation function in your browser (Google Chrome)
- display the EDEKA next translated
- translate your EDEKA next courses

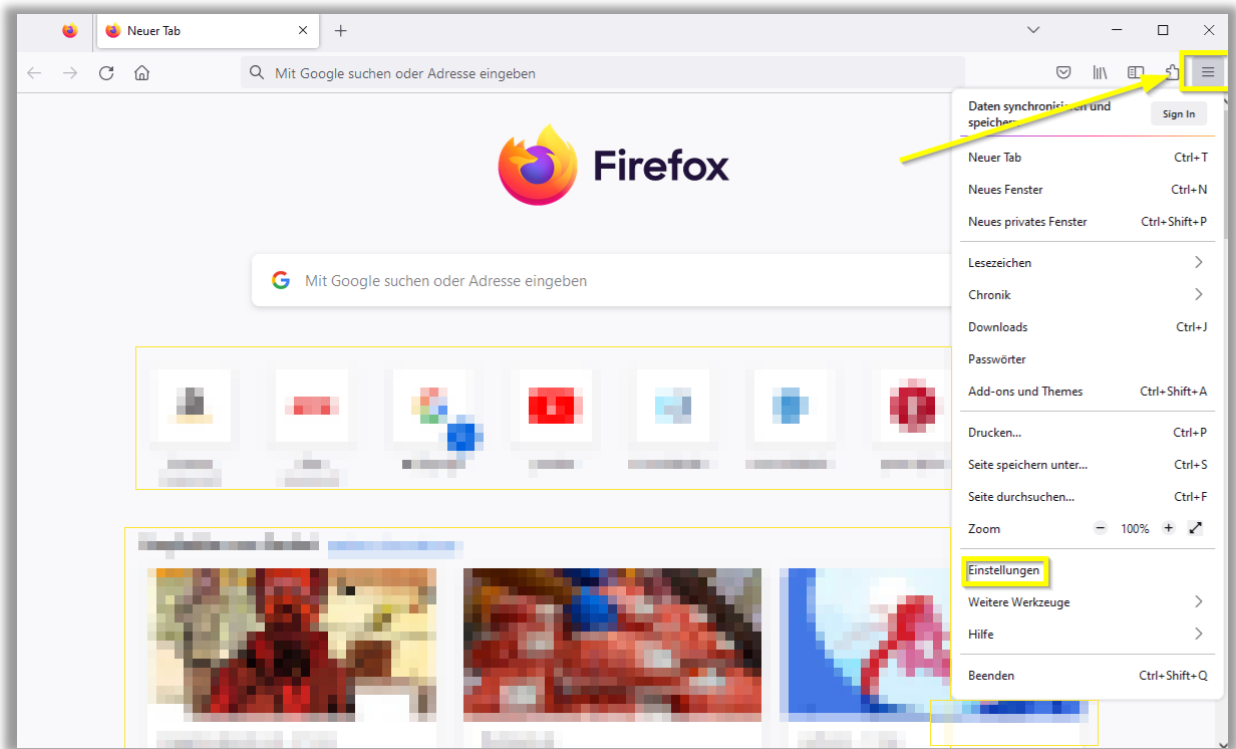

Important: This translation function only translates the texts in the course. Images, graphics and videos can not be translated.

Step 1: Adjust translation settings

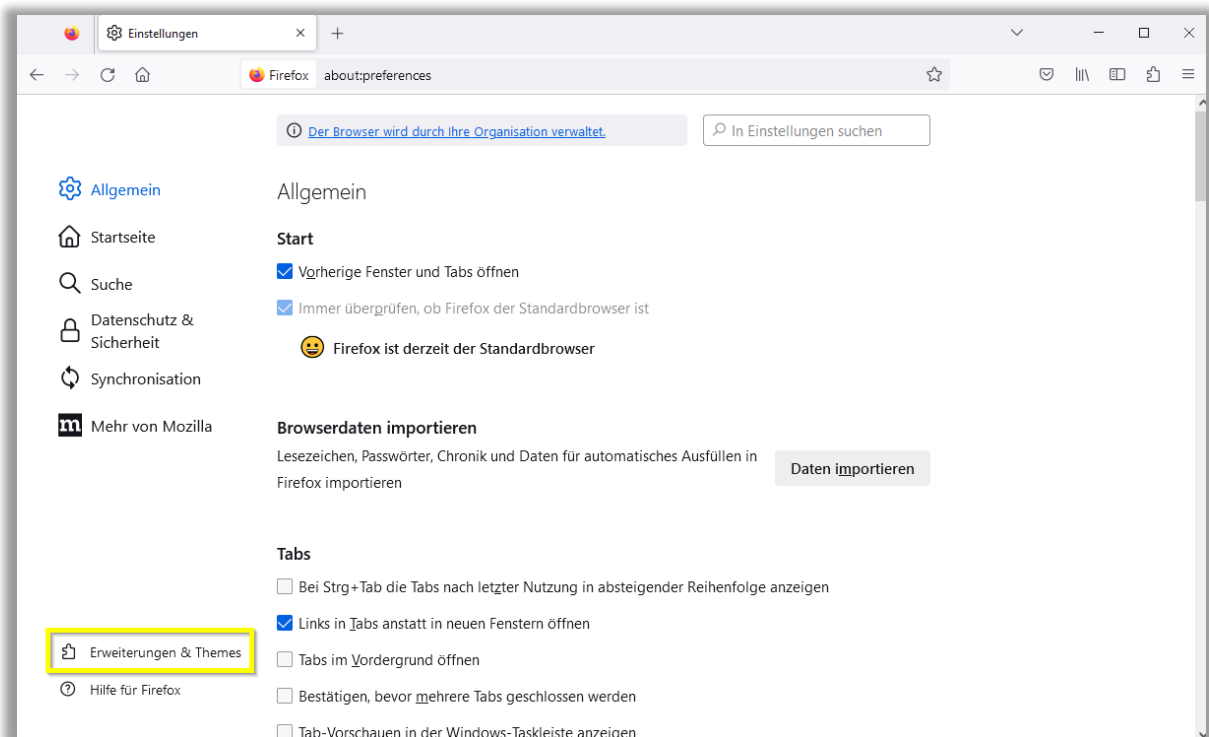

First open your Browser (Firefox).

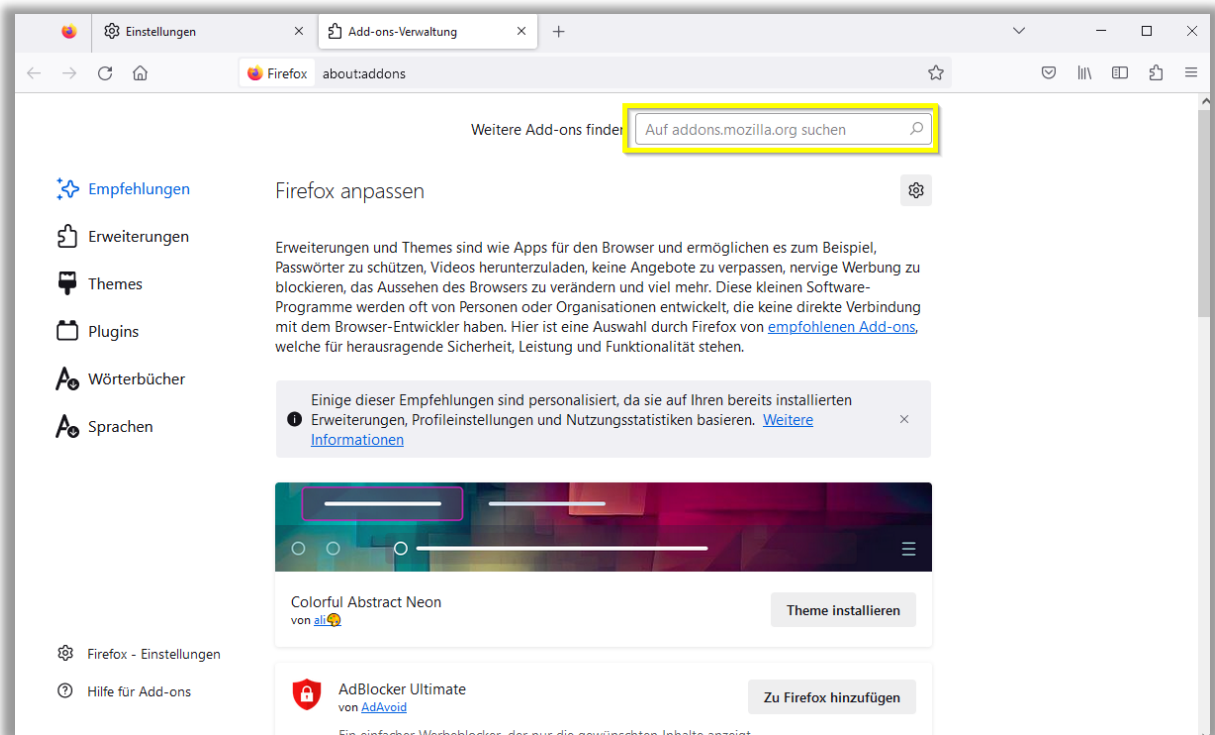

Click on the three lines on the top right-hand corner and then on settings.

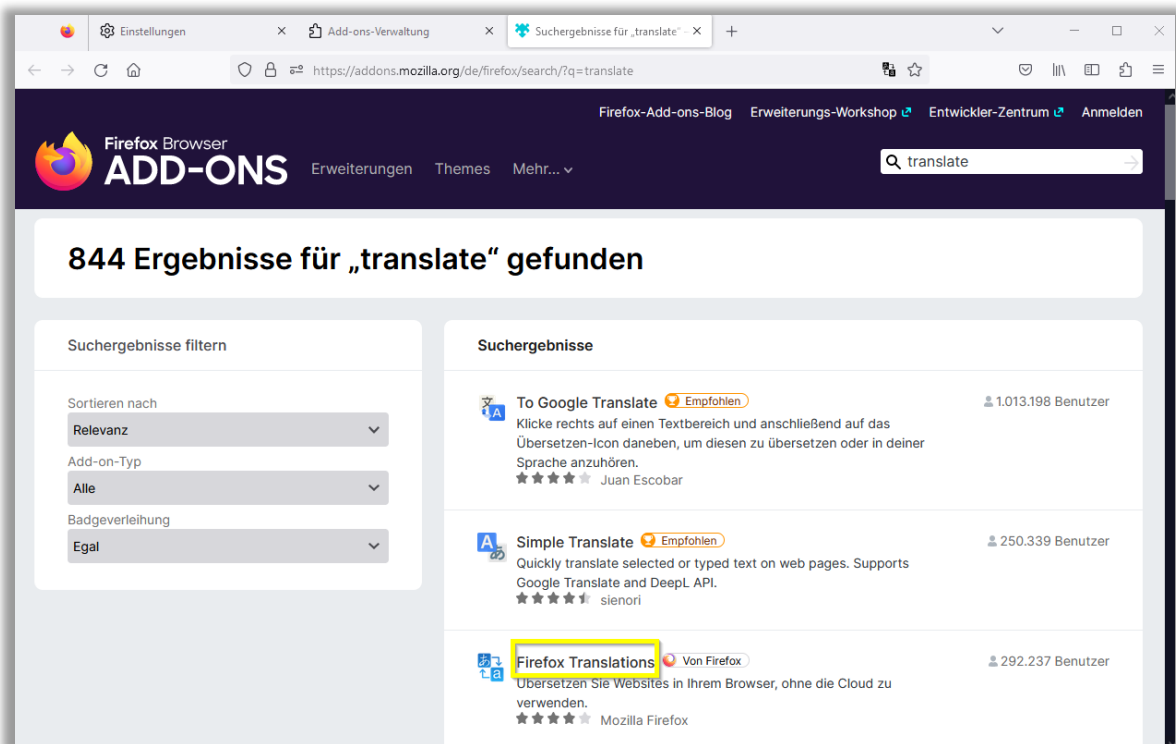

Click on the menu point Extensions & Themes.

After that, click on the search bar and search for translate.

Click on Firefox Translations.

Click on add to Firefox.

Click on add.

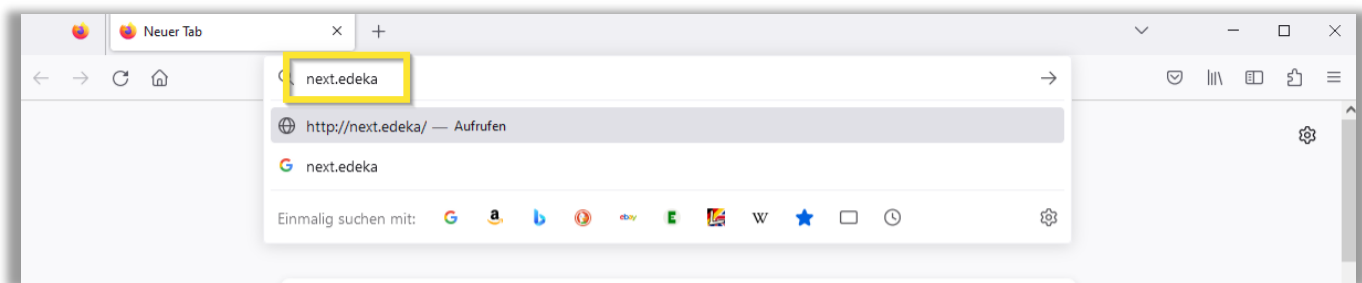

Click on the first two switches, so that all options are deactivated.

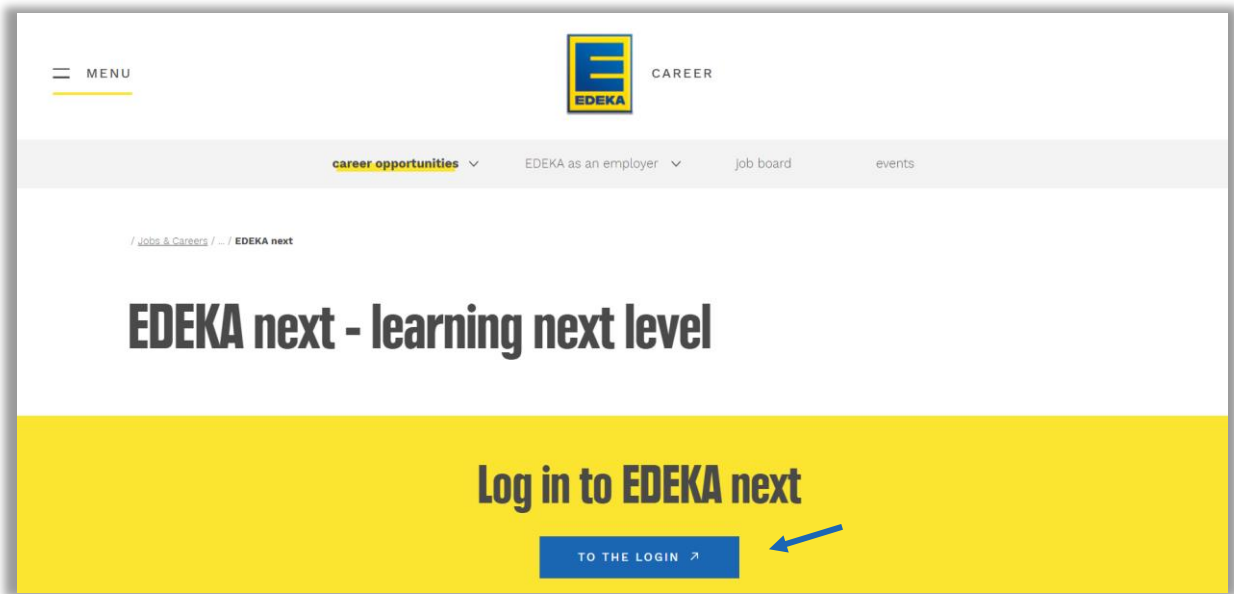

Important: Now close your Browser and restart it.

Step 2: Activate the translation function in the EDEKA next

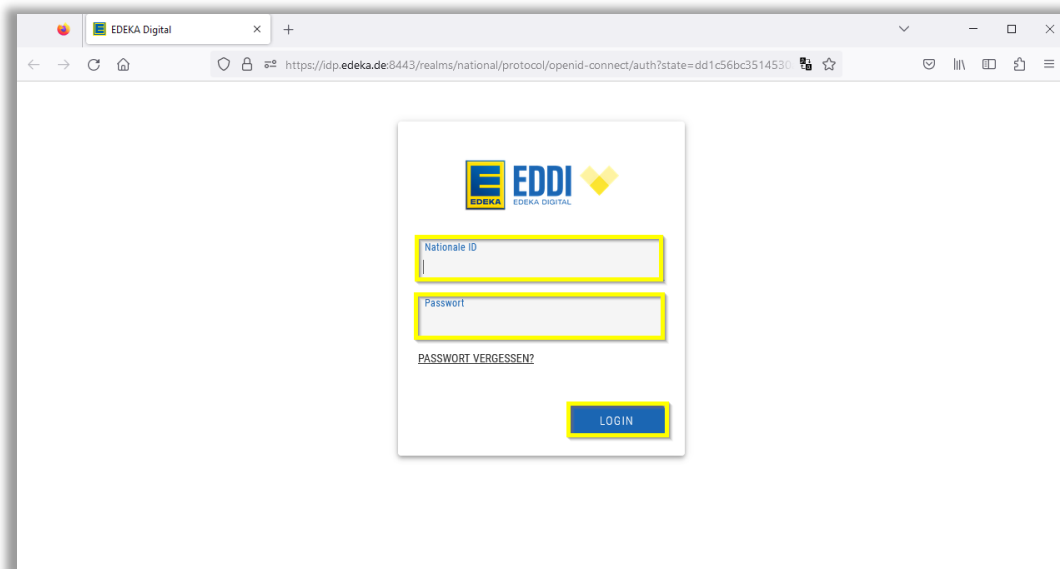

Enter `next.edeka` in the search bar.

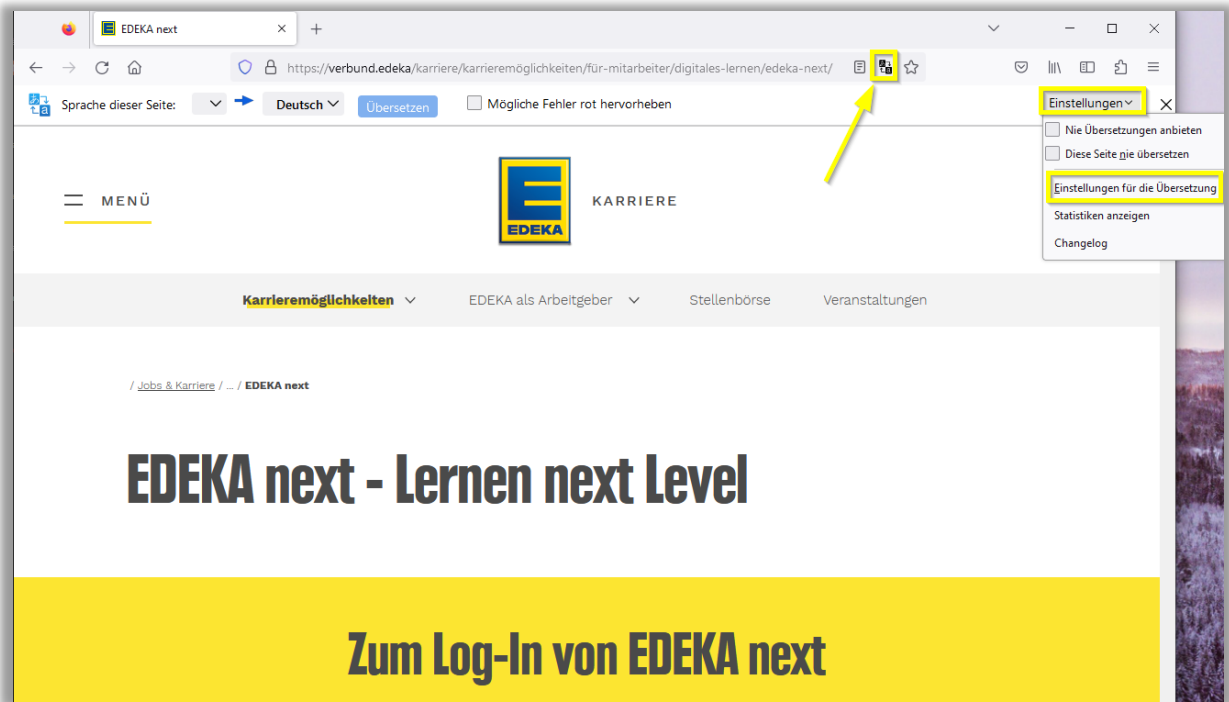

Click on LOGIN.

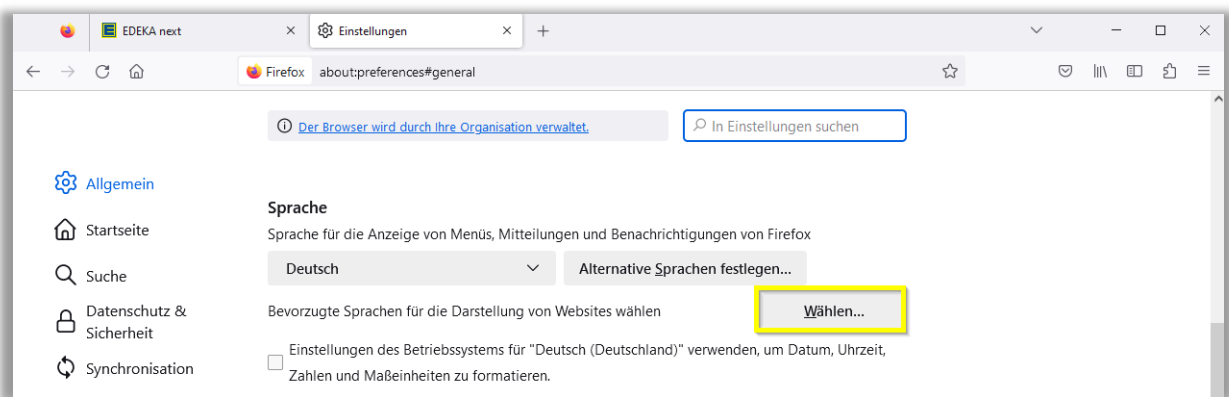

Enter your national ID and password and then click on LOGIN.

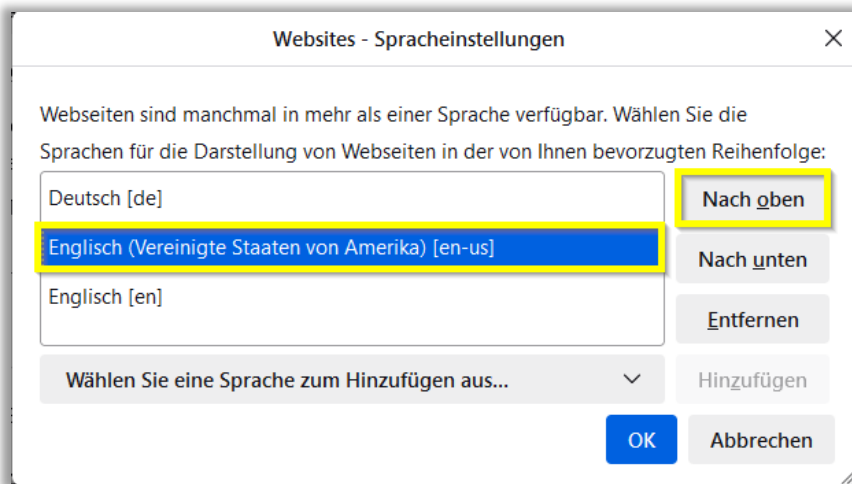

Click on the translator symbol in the search bar. After that, click on Settings and in the small window on Settings for translation.

Then click select.

Select your desired language and move it to the top of the list using the move up button.

Close the settings window and click on translate located under the search bar.

After that, click on automatically translate this tab while surfing.

Important: Always perform the last two steps when something opens in a new tab.

Step 3: Start and translate your EDEKA next course/instruction

At the top left of the screen, click on menu in your previously selected language and then on my content in your previously selected Language.

Scroll until you find your course and click on start in your previously selected language. If you don't find your course, click on instructions in your previously selected language. If you do not find it there either, please contact your manager.
